To Whom It May Concern,

I can confirm that Grant Ross was employed as a Draftsman and Junior Designer with MR Designs on a casual basis from January 2016 to November 2016. As head designer and director of the company, I worked closely with Grant and oversaw his projects during his employment.

At MR Designs, Grant's main role within the organisation was to generate drafting plans for a variety of projects from new homes, extensions, renovations, to multi-residential and commercial developments. He also had various opportunities to design as part of his projects. Grant proved to be a quick and efficient learner, and was able to apply his skills effectively to achieve project objectives. He demonstrated a keen interest in designing as evidenced by his hard work and dedication during his time at MR.

Along with his strong work ethic, Grant has also been a joy to work with. He is a friendly and enthusiastic person who is very easy to get along with, making him an invaluable asset to any organisation. I have every confidence in his ability to achieve well in any future endeavours in drafting and architectural design.

Sincerely,
